New Pre-College Math Pathway is a Game Changer

LCC math faculty members Terri Skeie and Joel Stetzer are offering a new kind of pre-college math class specifically tailored for students who are not exactly comfortable with the subject. The new pathway, Math 087/097, is designed for students who don't need to take calculus to meet their degree requirements. The course works well with Math& 107 (Math in Society), Math 131 (Math for Elementary Education), Math 210 (Elements of Statistics) and similar non-calculus based courses.

Rebekah Rossetti and Amber Kiker both jumped at the chance to enroll. Although they are pursuing different degrees, both students give the new pathway rave reviews. According to Rebekah, she no longer dreads going to math class and has shed her previous instinct to just walk out. "Where has this class been all my life? In other math classes, I have felt like everyone else gets it and I'm drowning. In this class, we cheer each other on. It's a very encouraging environment," she said.

It's the second time through the material for Amber. She describes this class as "not at all like" the more traditional math courses she's taken at LCC. "This class is so much different. There is a more fundamental breakdown of the material using words and numbers rather than just numbers," she said. Although Amber is destined to move on to traditional college-level math classes to meet requirements for Eastern Washington University's business program, the knowledge she is gaining in the course is making a huge difference for her. "In this class I'm learning the 'why' of what I'm doing, which makes me more confident in my ability," she said. Although she's been driven to tears out

Amber Kiker (top) and Rebekah Rossetti (bottom)

THE MAGIC OF MATH

1. Write a number between 1 and 20
2. Double your number
3. Add 6
4. Divide by 2
5. Subtract the original number
6. Check your answer at the bottom of the page of frustration with previous math classes, she has yet to experience the sensation this quarter.

The new pathway has been a game changer for both students. As an intended nursing student, Rebekah's college math requirement will be statistics. Before the new pathway came along, however, she was in doubt. "I was contemplating changing majors so I wouldn't have to take math," Rebekah said. Amber was also considering a massive change before she learned of the new pathway. "My grade in Math 088/089 was not great. I thought I was going to have to switch to a DTA and choose a different bachelor's program. Now I can stay on track with my original plan and pursue a degree in business," she said.

LCC is offering two sections of Math 087/097 (Essentials of Pre-College Math II/III) in winter quarter 2016.

TRANSFER STUDENTS

Save Time & Money At LCC

Students who begin a four-year degree at Lower Columbia College save tuition costs as well as room and board, if they live at home. Records show LCC students who transfer earn an average 3.18 GPA for junior and senior studies at Washington public universities.

The Associate in Arts Direct Transfer Agreement (AA-DTA) provides a smooth transition to upper division studies in state public universities. The new Washington 45 option allows LCC students to transfer after one year without losing any credits.

Associate Degree Transfer Options

Students who complete the AA-DTA at LCC are generally admitted with junior standing by all public universities in the state, some in Oregon, and by most Washington private colleges.

Community college transfer students make up nearly half of graduates earning bachelor degrees from Washington public universities.

Students graduate with virtually the same number of credits as students who started as freshmen at a university – an indicator of the smooth transfer between two-year and four-year colleges.

Transfer students graduate in all subjects, including:

- Business
- Healthcare
- STEM (science, technology, engineering, and math)

The LCC Transfer Center hosts representatives from universities and colleges on campus each quarter to meet with students planning to transfer. The Transfer Club coordinates road trips to various colleges and universities.

For information about LCC transfer options and services for transfer students, visit: lowercolumbia.edu/transfer

Veterans' Services

Lower Columbia College has been designated as a Military Friendly School on the basis of its educational programs, support services and financial assistance dedicated to helping veterans and members of the military succeed in their college goals. The ranking by GI Jobs goes to just the top 15% of colleges in the nation.

The college offers approved educational programs to eligible veterans and eligible dependents of deceased or totally disabled veterans under Title 38 and Title 10, U.S. Code.

ONLINE LEARNING @ LCC

Online learning at Lower Columbia College offers flexibility for those with work, family and other responsibilities to complete college courses and even a degree without a regular commute to campus.

Online - Students complete all course work via the Internet.

Hybrid - Courses blend classroom sessions with online participation and learning. For example: students go online, read lessons, take a practice quiz; then come to a face-to-face class and practice what they learned online.

The online learning process requires the same commitment as a traditional course. Staying up with the class and completing all work on time is vital. Once a learner gets behind, it is very difficult to catch up.

The majority of LCC online and hybrid courses are facilitated through the learning management system, Canvas.

Note: Some online classes require that students use a proctoring service for their online exams. This can be done at LCC, other colleges/approved sites, or with Proctor U. Many test proctoring locations charge a fee for this service, which students are responsible for paying. Students should work with their instructors if they have any questions about test proctoring requirements.

Need help with Canvas?

If your class listing shows this symbol  you will be using Canvas – LCC's online learning management system.

See If You Qualify for Special Funding for College

Special funding, in addition to traditional financial aid, is available to help pay college expenses for individuals seeking job training at Lower Columbia College. Current students, and others who want to train for a new job, can easily see if they might qualify through a new online tool.

Start Next Quarter

Take the 10-minute survey at www.startnextquarter.org to find out if you might qualify for special funding programs that help cover college expenses, including textbooks, transportation and childcare. If you pre-qualify, you can sign-up for an information session where you'll learn about available funding programs, determine your eligibility and submit an application. You'll also learn about:

- Available career training programs
- How to prepare for the placement assessments
- How to apply for federal financial aid (FAFSA)
- How to keep your unemployment or basic food benefits while in training

For help completing the survey, call the Workforce Services office, 360.442.2330, or stop by the Career Center for one-on-one support.

Worker Retraining

360.442.2334

Worker Retraining is a state-funded program that provides job-related training and employment services to dislocated and unemployed workers to help them gain additional training in their field or to get started on a new career. You may be eligible to receive additional funding to help pay for retraining tuition, books and fees or "jump-start" funding while waiting for financial aid approval. If you are currently receiving unemployment benefits, Worker Retraining staff will work with you to navigate the employment service programs available to the unemployed.

Opportunity Grant

360.442.2338

Unemployed or underemployed adults seeking a certificate or degree in a high demand career field, may be eligible for help to pay for college expenses under the Opportunity Grant Program. The grant provides individualized support services, along with funding for tuition and fees, books, and/or tools for up to 45 credits.

Basic Food, Employment & Training (BFET)

360.442.2332

In a partnership with Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS), Lower Columbia College offers opportunities for vocational education and career development to low income students who qualify to receive, or are currently receiving, federally-issued basic food benefits. While BFET does not provide tuition assistance, you may qualify for other assistance such as child care and food benefits. If you are currently receiving federally issued basic food benefits, BFET will allow you to continue to receive those benefits while attending school. As a benefits recipient, you will be required to participate in monthly career exploration activities with BFET staff.

Cooperative Education

LCC's Cooperative Education Program enables students to earn college credit through supervised, work-based learning experience.

This program integrates theories, concepts and methods studied in the classroom with practical skills gained in the workplace. Students may earn one credit for every 33 hours of approved work experience. There is a limit of 1-5 credits per quarter, depending upon specific degree requirements.

To enroll in a Cooperative Education program, students must have prior permission from an instructor in the appropriate program and the Workforce Services Manager, Dani Trimble. For information, contact Dani at 360.442.2622, email dtrimble@lowercolumbia.edu or stop by the Career Center, Admissions Building 120

Cooperative Education 288 students must attend a mandatory orientation either 3-4 p.m. or 5:30-6:30 p.m. on March 24, 2016. Orientations will be held in the Health Science Building, Room 107.

Cooperative Ed 288 students also must enroll in a 1-credit Cooperative Education 289 Seminar. The seminar focuses on work-related topics that complement the student's work-based learning experience. The seminar meets weekly on Thursdays from 12-1 in the Main Building, Room 125. A $14.30 lab fee will be charged for all 288 classes.

Meet the Faculty

Rob Davis directs the LCC Symphonic Band, teaches music theory, and chairs the performing and visual arts department. After graduating with honors from Brigham Young University, Rob earned a Doctor of Musical Arts degree from the University of Southern California. While at USC, Rob was honored to receive the Pi Kappa Lambda National Music Honor Society's Outstanding Musical and Academic Achievement Award.

In addition to his duties at LCC, Rob has been the conductor and musical director of the Southwest Washington Symphony since 2013. He has directed bands, choirs, and orchestras of all sizes and levels.

A French horn player by specialty and prize-winner in five national solo and chamber music competitions, Rob has played horn with the Utah Symphony, the Utah Chamber Orchestra, the Orchestra at Temple Square, and numerous theatrical orchestras. He has also performed on over 100 recording studio projects for films, television programs, advertisements, and video games.

Rob has performed in concert with a diverse array of musicians, including Frederica von Stade, The King's Singers, Peter Cetera, Debbie Reynolds, Lone Star, Lucy Lawless, and Jason Castro. Performance tours have taken Rob to Italy, Germany, Slovenia, Greece, England, Scotland, and Wales.

LCC Honor Student Benefits from U-Center Partnership

When 2016 Scholastic Achievement Award winner Zachary Sarmiento enrolled at LCC, he didn't know that one day he'd be earning his bachelor's degree. LCC's partnership with Eastern Washington University (EWU) through the campus-based University Center allowed him to do just that, all without having to leave home or take on the high cost of a residential college.

After graduating with honors from LCC last spring, Zachary enrolled in EWU's Applied Technology Bachelor's program. Although the transition from community college to university was a challenge, he credits the support of staff from both institutions with helping him through the process.

Zachary Sarmiento receives his associate degree from LCC President Chris Bailey in spring 2015

EWU being available through LCC has opened up doors for me like I never thought it could. It truly is a blessing. It still is shocking to me that I could be attending a school to acquire my bachelors. It's a dream come true.

Zachary Sarmiento

Zachary works two jobs in addition to going to school, which is made possible by the flexible scheduling offered by EWU. His favorite aspect of the Applied Technology program is the application of technical knowledge to real world situations. He is learning to communicate and express ideas about technology that he wasn't able to before enrolling in the program, a skill that will definitely benefit him in the workplace. Zachary's career plans include becoming an end-user specialist in the field of Information Technology.

Mathematics

(See also: Math Achievement Center)

Math classes at LCC are offered in three different formats to meet a variety of student needs:

- Standard math classes, where a lecture is presented and homework assigned.
- Online classes.
- Math Achievement Center classes, where students work on their own with the assistance of tutors and an instructor. See the next page.

It is very important that students take the Placement Assessment before enrolling in math classes. This test helps to ensure that any prerequisites are met and that students enroll in the proper level of mathematics. The Placement Assessment is given in the Entry Center. Call 360.442.2311 for more information.

Online homework and electronic textbook for all MATH 078/079, 088/089, 098/099, 141, 142, 148, 152, 153, and 210 provided by Pearson Education. To resolve technical problems, please contact Technical Support for MyLabsPlus at 1.888.883.1299 or helpdesk@lowercolumbia.mylabsplus.com

Please note: All mathematics prerequisites must be met with a grade of C or better. See your advisor or refer to the LCC catalog for more information.

LCC Offers New High School Diploma Program For Adults

Adults, age 21 and older, have a new, low-cost option to earn a high school diploma through a program now available at Lower Columbia College. The HS21+ program is a comprehensive, competency-based approach tailored to adult learning styles, with both day and evening classes on campus and in the community.

Students earn credit toward a high school diploma both through classroom studies and by demonstrating knowledge gained in the workplace, life experiences and military service. Previous high school and college studies also count.

LCC instructors and staff assess students' experiences to measure any gaps in education and work readiness and then create a plan to help them complete studies needed for their diploma.

HS21+ students are eligible for the Basic Skills tuition rate of $25 per quarter for classes needed to earn a diploma. Students may begin studies at any time. To get started, contact the Transitional Studies Department at 360.442.2580.

LCC began offering the HS21+ program in Summer 2013. Since then, over 200 students have completed studies to graduate with their high school diploma. Even better, many graduates have continued on to college studies.

CORPORATE AND CONTINUING EDUCATION

Employees and job seekers can measure their skills and compare them to skill profiles for specific jobs. Follow-up training using KeyTrain and other tools is available.

Employees and job seekers can document skill proficiency by taking the three assessments on the National Career Readiness Certificate (NCRC) – Applied Mathematics, Reading for Information and Locating Information. The NCRC is a portable, evidence-based credential that certifies essential skills needed for workplace success.

LCC also offers computer skills testing, typing tests and other tests to measure the skill level of employees and applicants.

Support for companies looking for specialized training is also available. LCC frequently works with employers to provide or arrange customized training in a variety of areas, including job-specific Spanish language courses, quality assurance, business computer applications, customer service, and other areas critical to organizational success.

Mental Health First Aid Training

Just as CPR helps you assist an individual having a heart attack, even if you have no clinical training, Mental Health First Aid helps you assist someone experiencing a mental health related crisis. In the Mental Health First Aid course, you learn risk factor and warning signs for mental health and addiction concerns, strategies for how to help someone in both crisis and non-crisis situations, and where to turn for help.

The 8-hour Mental Health First Aid course helps participants not only gain confidence in their capacity to approach and offer assistance to others, but also to improve their own personal mental health.

Leadership Series

Building High Performance Teams

Teams are the force that drive most organizations. Whether it's a functional team, a team of managers, or a project team, people get most done when they work together effectively. Does your organization want better quality, higher productivity, greater sensitivity to customers and improved profitability? People make these things happen. This series will provide team leaders and team members a solid foundation to build stronger and more efficient teams in the workplace.

Thursdays, 8 a.m. to 12 p.m.

Fundamentals of High Performance Teams

High performance teams are more than a group of people working together to accomplish a common task. Practice the fundamental skills for creating high performance teams. Gain an understanding of how teams differ from traditional work groups, learn good meeting management skills, and clarify team member roles and responsibilities.

Myers-Briggs in Team Building

Use Myers-Briggs and learning style concepts to encourage teams to think about individual preferences in communication styles for the purposes of enhanced innovation and collaboration. Discuss how managers and leaders can adopt a more flexible model of personality types to improve how their team members communicate with one another, which in turn will boost their team contributions at work.

Emotional Intelligence in the Workplace

Improve your own personal leadership by learning to manage your emotions and perform at your best when you are in high pressure situations. You will also gain critical skills that will enable you to help your team understand that the reality of the key moment cannot change, but that the interior response to it is a personal choice.

Motivation & Coaching

Explore ways to motivate yourself and your team with a very concrete but effective methodology. In this training, participants will learn about multiple theories, such as Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs, Herzberg's Motivation and Hygiene Factors, and how to practically apply them to the workplace.

Customer Centered Service

Successful organizations know that customer satisfaction is just the entry point in today's highly competitive marketplace. This seminar consists of practical tools that can be implemented immediately in the workplace to help significantly and sustainably improve external and internal customer service.

High Performance Leadership

Go from control to empowerment through learning how to be an outstanding leader within your organization. The principles and practices in this training are based upon observation and research from the foremost authorities in the field of leadership.

Is Music Your Passion?

Whether you enjoy singing or coaxing mellow tones from a saxophone, you'll find others who share that love at Lower Columbia College. Performing is at the heart of our music programs and LCC's Wollenberg Auditorium at the Rose Center for the Arts is the premiere performance venue in Southwest Washington.

Concert Choir

The Concert Choir is a select group of student singers with an average of 20+ members. The ensemble performs one concert per quarter: a Holiday concert, a traditional concert and a Pops/Broadway concert. All members play a vital role in the ensemble and are given opportunities throughout the year to perform solos with the group.

Show Choir

The Show Choir is a select group student singers ranging in size from 8-15 members, performing primarily Broadway/Jazz style music with choreography. The ensemble performs one concert per quarter, and often joins the Jazz Band's Winter concert.

Opera Workshops

These workshops give students the opportunity to be exposed to standard operatic repertoire both in duet/ensemble settings and solo aria performances. The class performs a concert every quarter, and every student in the class performs a minimum of one solo and one ensemble piece. Vocal technique, individual vocal development, stage presence, and language pronunciation are all emphasized in this course.

Jazz Band

Fast-paced and soulful compositions that spotlight the sounds of every instrument in this energetic band foster the musical talents of LCC performers while drawing appreciative applause at concerts and community events.

Symphonic Band

Gain large ensemble experience while performing with long-time musicians from the community and top young performers.

Performances

LCC choirs and bands perform in a concert at the end of each quarter to showcase their musical talents for friends, family and music patrons from the community. Additional opportunities exist throughout the year for campus performances, including caroling, recruiting tours, pops recitals, opera recitals and concert tours (such as the LCC Choir's 2015 Carnegie Hall performance).

LCC music instructors are dedicated to helping students make the most of their talents.
